The leisure, sport and tourism industries offer a very wide range of jobs. Most have the shared aim of helping people to enjoy their leisure time. Career opportunities are available in:

- leisure centre work, for example as a manager, assistant or lifeguard
- coaching and instructing, in health and fitness, horse riding, outdoor activities, yoga or a specific sport
- professional sport, for example as a footballer, horse-racing jockey or golfer
- entertainment and gambling - working in cinemas, theme parks, fairgrounds, betting shops, casinos or bingo clubs, travel and tourism, for example as a holiday representative, holiday centre manager, tour manager, tourist information centre assistant or travel agent.

Jobs in these industries have very different entry requirements. Some demand specific qualifications while others require no formal qualifications. Generally, there is a wide variety of courses that can help prepare for entry to these areas of work, ranging from GCSEs through to degrees and postgraduate qualifications.
